
Cardinus Risk Management and CriticalArc form strategic partnership

Partnership to deliver advanced security and emergency management solution

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, XX JANUARY 2021 – Cardinus Risk Management has today announced a strategic partnership with CriticalArc to bring Cardinus’ advisory and training expertise together with CriticalArc’s SafeZone®, a unified safety, security emergency management solution.

Commenting on the partnership, Andy Neal, Director of Security at Cardinus stated: “We have been highly impressed with how the CriticalArc SafeZone solution empowers safety and security teams to streamline and strengthen their capacity to respond to incidents, optimise outcomes, fulfil duty of care, and mitigate risks. By combining SafeZone with our strategic consultancy and behavioural training, we see a perfect synergy by working together.”

In 2020, Cardinus celebrated 25 years of delivering health, safety, security, and ergonomics risk management solutions across the globe with over 1500 mid to large clients. Cardinus’ security division was formed when Andy Neal joined in 2017, having run his own consultancy and training firm following a distinguished military career.

Cardinus offers both onsite and online consultancy services to help organisations mitigate work-related risks, better understand threats and develop policies and procedures which minimise accidents, enhance the employee experience, and help businesses comply with health and safety legislation.

Headquartered in Sydney, Australia, CriticalArc has regional offices in the United States, the United Kingdom and Middle East with over three million SafeZone users across 80 countries. Adopted by world-leading universities, healthcare providers, and critical infrastructure, SafeZone enables proactive responses that positively impact the outcome of incidents, supports lone workers and travelling staff, and enhances safety and wellbeing.

CriticalArc’s Managing Director, Darren Chalmers-Stevens commented: “We welcome our relationship with Cardinus as an important extension to the solution we provide clients. Our combined expertise, technology, and people will deliver significantly enhanced benefits, capabilities and market reach.”
